

Tapetenwechsel

The image shows a room in the process of being renovated. The walls are in a state of disrepair, with large sections of old, brownish wallpaper peeling away to reveal a grey, textured underlayer. A purple step ladder is positioned in the center of the room, leaning against the wall. The floor is covered with a thick layer of debris, including pieces of the old wallpaper and other materials. The overall scene suggests a significant renovation project, specifically the removal of old wallpaper.
